To The Hon'ble Chief Minister, Govt. of Andhra Pradesh, Hyderabad. 01. Name of the Patient/Beneficiary: .Tokyo (CNN) -- The United States, China and Japan agreed Monday to work on the denuclearization of North Korea by the end of the year and will hold more talks in the coming weeks to help develop a "roadmap" on the matter, a senior Japanese government official said Tuesday. "We have confirmed (the agreement) in our bilateral talks with the U.S. and China," said the official, who attended the talks that occurred last week in the Chinese capital, Beijing.

The three countries, the official said, will begin working on a roadmap for the denuclearization of the Korean Peninsula, but the date of its completion is not known. The official spoke on condition of anonymity, saying the talks were still ongoing. The announcement of the roadmap is a major achievement in U.S.-China-Japan-North Korea talks that have been going on for more than a year. After the meeting in Beijing, U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton and Chinese State Councilor Dai Bingguo issued a joint statement saying the three countries "reaffirmed their common commitment to continue to work together on continued diplomatic and security efforts to achieve peace and stability on the Korean Peninsula, and expressed their respective support for the six-party talks, and for the goal of achieving complete, verifiable and irreversible denuclearization of North Korea." The United States and China are the strongest supporters of the six-party talks, which include
