3 comments: I'm waiting for the final release of PES9.0. However, the links available at the time of writing is PES9.0 Torrents. Why do we have to download, and then extract the files into PES9.0 folder, when we can directly go to PES9.0 folder and click on the installer file. This is just something a noob will always do, and that's why the above guy is being given a flak for that. It will be nice to have a direct file in the start page to download PES 9.0 instead of going to the torrent page and then downloading through torrent client. I have read somewhere that he can always make a video and share the link to it. But it is very difficult for us to know what link he is sharing because he never shows it. It is always a torrent link.

Q: how do I add placeholder text to a text box on a 'ng2-bootstrap' form

I am trying to add placeholder text to a textbox in a 'ng2-bootstrap' form. Input {{template.id}}

Input Message sent! In the example above, I am attempting to add placeholder text to the textbox by using the placeholder attribute. However, when I click on the textbox, it does not get the placeholder text and it does not accept
