We studied the effect of topical and systemic application of triamcinolone acetate and cyclosporin on aqueous humor dynamics in rabbits. Topical application of triamcinolone produced only a minimal increase in the amount of aqueous humor in the short term. Systemic application of triamcinolone increased the rate of aqueous humor formation and decreased the rate of outflow of aqueous humor, whereas cyclosporin decreased the rate of aqueous humor formation and increased the rate of outflow of aqueous humor.945 F.2d 419 NOTICE: Sixth Circuit Rule 24(c) states that citation of unpublished dispositions is disfavored except for establishing res judicata, estoppel, or the law of the case and requires service of copies of cited unpublished dispositions 2d92ce491b
