Regards, Stephen Chew Q: I have published my web site to the server and am transfering it from my localhost. The issue is that when I go to look at the web page, there is an error displayed as shown in the picture. I am trying to eliminate all of the rights that I have on the server and I am not sure what I am missing. I have done this many times before but this time the people in the server do not have privileges to do this. So I think my issue is that they are missing permissions or something. What do I need to do to fix this issue? Thank you, Liliana A: Searches on Google for your error message yield this MS article describing the error. If that doesn't help, you will need to contact your server adminstrator and ask him to fix the permissions. Abstract : Safety-critical applications are key components of the modern digital world. Yet they suffer from frequent crashes and other errors (e.g., buffer overflows, software deadlocks). The current prevailing design methodology for safety-critical
