Introducing Sequoia network installation... Importing audio CD tracks... Your CodeMeter serial number can be found on the dongle or in the Help menu... Setting the serial number... When you receive new hardware, you will need to select the hardware configuration you want to use. This configuration includes not only the type of processor, but also the number and names of RAM, disk drives, etc. To obtain this information, your device must be able to read and write to the hard disk. In most cases, there is a file on the hard drive called "config.txt" containing the required information.
