CyberCafePro Keygen Full Version Free Download

Time CyberCafePro Full Crack helps you generate time codes, which you can use to easily manage the use of computers at an Internet café. With the time codes, you can easily create a list of the computer's access time, print out the time codes, and, thanks to the built-in camera of the computer, you can see the moment of use of the client system and determine the amount of time a computer was in use or not used. You can also automate the time codes generation process. Accounts CyberCafePro Serial Key allows you to create an account and to set up a password. The account is automatically created when you add a computer to the list, and you can add information about the first name, last name, address, username, email address, birth date and password of the current user. You can also add more users with additional information (you can edit any information you previously set). You can assign the account user the permission to change the password and, in case of user account loss, to change the password. Customs CyberCafePro Crack Keygen allows you to easily set up a list of items, which can be bought by a user while he/she is using the client station. You can add items to the list, edit the information and filter the list by items or items price. You can also create a list of items, set up item price and other parameters, sort the items in the list and export the information to CSV file format. Custom commands CyberCafePro allows you to define your own command, which can be used to start the computer or to shut down the system. You can define custom commands, a password for the commands and set up a list of commands that you can use while you are on the client station. Files CyberCafePro allows you to access and manage files. You can change the file permissions, add a file to the list of files stored on the client computer, export the list to CSV file format, as well as add more files to the list. You can set up the file name, type, size, and extension and mark the files for deletion, moving, or in-use. In-use file You can easily track the items that a client system is currently in use. You can specify the computer, the start time and the end time of the computer, generate a time code for the computer, and set up the list of files that were accessed by the computer. You can

CyberCafePro is an advanced Windows application whose purpose is to help you manage your Internet café center by providing support for account management, pricing options, custom control features and comprehensive point of sale. Configuration wizard When you run the tool for the first time a configuration window pops out offering you step-by-step guidance throughout the initial setup process. You can enable the Play & Pay mode for charging customers after they use the client station and/or charge customers before they use the client station. Additionally, you may enter the amount of money charged per hour of computer time, configure your local taxes and set up a master password in order to block other users' access to your Client Admin section. Clean feature lineup It comes with a multitude of dedicated parameters for helping you manage your Internet cafés so you may be inclined to believe that the layout looks a bit overwhelming. This is clearly not the case with CyberCafePro, as it adopts a user-friendly layout that displays small icons for each computer. When you click on the Main panel, the tool reveals a smart set of features that enable you to start or stop the current Internet session, check out the elapsed time, computer usage, printing charges and other items, and view the total sum of charged items. What's more, you can add custom notes (which can be cleared with a single click and customized in terms of font, font style and size) and activate several quick actions for the current client, such as send messages, transfer files, end session, add items, and reboot or shut down the system. Several options are available for managing all clients at the same time, namely adjust the volume, lock all PCs which are currently not in use, unlock all computers, reboot or shut down all unused computers, as well as wake all systems that have Wake-on-Lan (WoL) enabled network adapters. Time codes, accounts and reservations CyberCafePro gives you the possibility to generate time codes by specifying the number of codes, assigning a time value to each code (or providing unlimited access time), setting up automatic expiration options, and allowing access to only a custom period of time. Plus, you can sort the time codes by unsold, sold, unlimited time, deactivated items or other criteria, edit them, print the list with the time codes and export the information to CSV file format. The tool lets you create an account by adding information about the first and last name, address,
