VASIO is an effect in which you can create a realistic sound like your own. The character is created with a few different visual objects, that can be moved and rotated, and on top of that, several colors. A click with the mouse on a specific area triggers the creation of the sound. Regenerate Existing Sounds You can select the area on which you like to create the sound, and then select a new sound source. The sound will be added to this source, and the visual objects will then be regenerated in the new sound source. Creation of New Sounds You can use the inbuilt browser or upload a new one to be downloaded. The browser, if installed, shows you an idea of the type of sound you can create. You can select a color for each object, and on top of that you can select a sound type, whether it be ringing, sound effects, or melodies. Random Selection The browser lets you chose different sources, and randomly a new source will be chosen. When you click on the new source, it will be added to the browser. In this way, you can create a new sound source over and over. If you click on the left side of a visual object, the sound source will play. New Sound Sources You can choose a new sound source, which will be added to the browser. In this way, you can create new sound sources.
