Is there any way to fix this problem? Can you suggest what should I do? If you can tell me how can I import the required headers I'll really appreciate it. I'm using MS Visual Studio 2010. My OS is Win 8.1 Pro. A: You have a program like "System Properties" that blocks the library you want to use. Install more programs and then try again. The solution is to close the program you have that is blocking the library. Or, if you have "Microsoft System Management Objects for Windows Server 2008 R2", try to install it then install the library and see if it solves the problem.
