FIFA is a football video game series developed by EA Canada and published by Electronic Arts. First released in 1991, the series has sold more than 91 million copies. The latest FIFA release, EA SPORTS FIFA 22, is the latest version in the series, developed by EA Canada in collaboration with the Official FIFA Team. The game was released on September 28, 2016 and is available for PC, PS4, and Xbox One. Gameplay FIFA 22 is designed to give gamers the best experience yet for players and coaches. “Football is a sport deeply ingrained in our culture, and its gameplay elements are inextricably woven into the fabric of the game. However, we feel as though we’ve taken a substantial step forward in breaking down that barrier and becoming closer to the real experience,” said Andrew Wilson, senior producer at EA Canada. A number of gameplay changes aim to make FIFA more realistic while improving gameplay. The “Pass and Move” gameplay system is now faster and more intuitive, while new Tactical Defending controls allow users to fine-tune defensive gameplay. The game’s level of detail and face-off camera are significantly upgraded. FIFA will be available as a standalone game on the Wii U console on November 28, 2016. Compatible with EA SPORTS Season Ticket and Smart Football, features include Coach Training, new offline challenges, and Split-Screen. ESPN and FIFA ESPN, the world’s leading sports media and marketing company, has secured exclusive broadcast and content rights to the FIFA regular season and Championship in both Europe and North America. Steve Bornstein, ESPN senior VP and executive VP of sales and strategy, said, “We are pleased to be partnering with EA
